

PERENNIAL PERSPECTIVES
CREATIVE ECOLOGY AND INTEGRAL LANDSCAPE DESIGN

19-20 June 1996

Secretariaat: Leo den Dulk
Sint Antonieaan 182
6821 GL Arnhem
Tel 0031 (0)26-4454042
Fax 0031 (0)26-4425196

A 2-day international symposium will be held in the Netherlands to consider the planning, design and management of public and private green space. The first day will be held at Musis Sacrum, Arnhem and the second day in the grounds of Bingerden House, Angerlo. By presenting the exciting results of practical experience at various levels, the symposium hopes to give an impulse to the integration of landscape design, ecological field experience, horticultural crafts and the practical management of public and private green space.

Day 1: Musis Sacrum, Arnhem Day 2: Bingerden House, Angerlo

Prof. Victor Westhoff, vegetation ecologist
Playing chess with nature

Ineke Greve, garden owner
Gardening in full surrender

André de Jong, urban architect
Urban environment as an open process

James van Sweden, landscape architect
An alloy of naturalism and free spirit

Prof. Hans Luz, landscape architect
Integral landscape design

Piet Oudolf, garden designer, nurseryman
Perennials as building elements

Michiel den Ruyter, landscape architect
The garden as a collection

Ton ter Linden, artist
Pictorial fluctuations

Oasis Foundation
Places rich in nature: an open network

Henk Gerritsen, garden owner
Informal creativity

Hein Koningen,
supervisor Amstelveen parks
The process of managing naturalistic parks

Rob Leopold, writer
Annuals as a finishing touch

Urs Walser, landscape architect
The practical management of natural beauty

Marijke Heuff, photographer
A range of living visions

Symposium chairman: Rune Bengtsson - Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences.

Admission for 2 days: 650 dutch guilders, including lunches, beverages, the manifesto 'Nature and Garden Art in Holland' and an extensive symposium report in English. (Dinners and hotel not included). For students the fee is 375 dutch guilders.

For further information please send your request to :
Perennial Perspectives, symposium secretariat, St. Antonieaan 182, 6821 GL Arnhem, or send a fax to (+31) (0)26-4425196.

Name:

Address:

.....